Dissertation: Exploring Relationships between Betrayal Trauma, Attachment, and Mental Health in a Sample of First-Time Mothers and their Children. DISSERTATION COMMITTEE: Dr. Barbara Jones (Co-Chair), Dr. Deborah Jacobvitz (Co-Chair, Department of Human Development and Family Sciences), Dr. Diana DiNitto, Dr. Susan De Luca. ANTICIPATED COMPLETION: 05/2020.

Research Interests: childhood trauma and dissociation; intergenerational transmission of child maltreatment; maternal-child health and attachment; trauma-related health disparities; neurofeedback.

Teaching Interests: Social work practice courses at the BSW and MSW levels; human behavior and the social environment; interprofessional education; online and hybrid-based instruction.

Education:
05/2020 PhD Steve Hicks School of Social Work, University of Texas at Austin
08/2017 MSW College of Social Work, Florida State University
05/2004 BA Department of Psychology, University of North Florida

Selected Research Experience:
2019 - Present Co-Principal Investigator, with Faculty Sponsor/Principal Investigator Rebecca Rogers, MD
Chronic Pelvic Pain and Women’s Well Being Study
Women’s Health Institute at Dell Medical School, Steve Hicks School of Social Work, University of Texas at Austin

Selected Teaching Experience:
2019 - Present University of Texas at Austin
Course Instructor
Social Work Practice with Groups (BSW Core Course)

Selected Publications:

Selected Conference Presentation:

Selected Award:
2019 David Caul Graduate Research Award - International Society for the Study of Trauma and Dissociation