Responsibilities:

- Research Enterprise and Sustainability. Responsible for the development, management, implementation, and sustainability of IDVSA's research enterprise.
 - Develop, implement, and sustain IDVSA's research projects thereby advancing basic science in IDVSA's field of expertise. Direct and execute research projects. Manage the coordination of all stakeholders, internally and externally; data collection, analysis, and reporting; and presentation of findings to stakeholders, local, and national audiences.
 - Identify, develop, and execute grant applications, including conceptual and theoretical frameworks to address IDVSA topic areas, research method design, and project management plans.
 - Align and develop the research enterprise to support IDVSA's 'arch of fairness and justice' vision and mission.
- Scientific Operations. IDVSA is committed to maintaining and developing organizational practices that sustain the ability to develop and grow the mission and vision of the institute, including research enterprise, education and training, applied and translational research communications, and the ‘arch of fairness and justice’ vision and mission.

- Liaise with directors, leadership members, portfolio directors, and across institutes and the SHSSW, where appropriate, to make operational decisions and strategic goals.
- Monitor and evaluate the day-to-day activities of running the institute to ensure effective and efficient processes. Apply improvements and continued monitoring.
- Monitor adherence to all relevant policies and procedures outlined in the Handbook of Operating Procedures.
- Lead and oversee all procurement and contractual processes and coordination of payment practices.
- Vision, develop, and implement long-term organizational planning and needs assessments for scientific operations. Strategize, develop, and implement appropriate processes, procedures, resources, etc. to achieve organizational goals.
- Oversee, develop, and manage institute administrative functions.
- Direct and manage human resources responsibilities and tasks for research staff. Hire, train, supervise, and determine work priorities for research project staff.
- Oversee project accounts and expense monitoring.
- Collaborative Leadership. IDVSA is committed to a strong, involved leadership team. Contribute as a member of IDVSA’s leadership.
 - Responsible for the mission and objectives of a specific IDVSA portfolio (AKA goal area). Understand and successfully implement collaborative decision-making as a key IDVSA value and practice. Understand the importance of and successfully implement internal decision-making as critical (i.e. implement and maintain project launch, project meetings and review processes with team members and the IDVSA director, and other IDVSA strategies etc.). Successfully involve external partners as critical element of our success, such as co-directors, members of SHSSW, University, community, sponsors, nation, and across the globe.
 - Develop a synergic intersection across and within portfolios. Expose, exemplify, and interpret individual and collective strengths that illustrate horizontal (between) and vertical (within) edges portfolios. Identify, strategize, and determine tasks that contribute to and enhance the overall success of the IDVSA's portfolios.

- Define and operate according to IDVSA's values and practices. Ensure a healthy and productive work environment. Commit to value-based implementation in all aspects of our work. Engage in a value-based dialog to live IDVSA's values. Commit to discussions that redefine IDVSA's values and practices. Commit to leading self and others to and through authentic and courageous conversations with the aspiration of IDVSA's achievement being an environment of courageous conversations about race, ethnicity, gender and identities, class, and power, between IDVSA staff and stakeholders.
- Actively support research-grant driven enterprise. On an annual basis serve as the principal investigator or co-principal investigator. Oversee the successful completion of all the tasks and deliverables required on a research and or training grant. Seek successful funding to support the annual salaries of all IDVSA staff.
